

First EP Storage meeting at Rudall

ABOVE... New Free Eyre executive officer Mark Rodda meets with administration manager Andrea Burnett, EP Storage Taragoro site manager Louise Jackson and EP Storage chairman Mike Tilly at the recent EP shareholders meeting at Rudall.

TOP LEFT... EP Storage board member Sue Chase chats to shareholders Bill Herde and Trent Harris at the recent EP Storage shareholders meeting at Rudall.

LEFT... EP Storage board member Trevor Cliff (centre) chats to shareholders Grantley Siviour and Michael Weiss at the recent EP Storage shareholders meeting at Rudall.

Shareholders of the new Free Eyre subsidiary company EP Storage met at Rudall earlier this month to receive an update on the first harvest performance of the new grain storage site at Taragoro.

The group started the day with an inspection of the Taragoro site before moving to the Rudall clubrooms for the meeting.

New FREE Eyre executive officer Mark Rodda, Taragoro Site Manager Louise Jackson and EP Storage Chairman Mike Tilly outlined the highs and lows of the season and plans for further improving the site in readiness for the coming harvest.

FREE Eyre shareholders will also be brought up to date at the FREE Eyre AGM at Rudall on Friday, February 26.